

Final paper for intro to sociology class

Show how in the last 50 years some function example, (education is a function) in the American society has change/affect the USA and the world. Also you can choose a product, service, idea, industry, and or event in the USA has changed society in the last 50 years. That is from 1956-2006. In the book they used the example of divorce. When you decide on a topic discuss it with me to make sure you are on the right track.

The paper MUST be at less 5 pages long. Please follow the APA format. I have enclosed a copy and a web site to for your reference.

Some points I want you to include in your paper.

How has this change affected society from a manifested (intended change) or a latent (unintended change).

What if any dysfunctional/positive change did it cause to society?

What if any emotional affects did it have on the general public?

Please remember to support your ideas with research/stats to back up your beliefs. I have also enclosed a handout for you to copy regarding how and were to go for sociological research. Graphs and charts are always a good idea.

Some information that needs to be included.

How did/didn't affect the economy, family, politics, recreation, gender, religion, culture? To name a few of the functions in society.
